

ABSTRACT

A method of making a same potential block. The method includes stamping a first metal piece from a first sheet of metal. The first metal piece includes a first carrier strip and a plurality of first clips extending from the first carrier strip. The method also includes inserting the plurality of first clips into a plurality of holes of a main body of the same potential block.

TECH/206719.1